

I am honored to serve as The National Trial Lawyers Top 100 President for 2021. This year will present new opportunities and challenges for all of us, as men, women, and advocates for our clients and causes. As immediate past president Lisa Blue said, “the best lawyers are the leaders who lead with positive attitudes so that their firms and employees are more optimistic.” As Top 100 trial lawyers in this nation, I firmly believe that we are all leaders and will continue to do good for society and our clients.

After experiencing the many challenges of last year, we have evolved the way that we practice law. We now stand together to adequately represent the concerns of our clients and more efficiently engage in the practice of law. Our network of motivated advocates for justice is formulated to help its members organize powerful attacks on the enemies of our clients. Helping you sculpt your case to fit the deeply entrenched confirmation biases of your jurors is what The National Trial Lawyers exists to do. The Trial Lawyers Summit will provide you with proven techniques, giving you and your clients the best possible opportunity to secure justice.

Trials are the backbone of our civil justice system. Fighting for your clients is the only true weapon that individuals have in the fight to hold power to account in this country. That’s why I specialize in representing the significantly injured, victims of product defects and defective drugs, commercial trucking accidents, insurance bad faith, and wrongful death clients. It is important for all of us to take the successful techniques being used by our brothers and sisters of our bar to be implemented in our own jurisdictions. Similarly, the vendors that support our organization can assist you in surviving difficulties of practicing law while overcoming a pandemic. I encourage you to utilize what The National Trial Lawyers has to offer to help you pursue justice.

While I am grateful for the opportunity to serve as this year’s Top 100 President, I am just as grateful for the opportunity to form lasting connections with more of you. I look forward to meeting many more of you during our upcoming events such as the 2022 Trial Lawyers Summit, Lanier Trial Academy Master Class 6.0, and more.

With gratitude,

Robert Eglet
NTL President
